Commitment Summary
The Ibero-American Society of Neonatology (SIBEN, www.siben.net) is a Not For Profit, Public Charity Organization, with the main objective to improve neonatal health and decrease neonatal mortality in the Latin American region, mostly by education, improvement in quality of neonatal care and obtaining data and information that could be translated into action.
Many countries in Latin America do not have accurate data, but show ‘stable’ indicators of neonatal mortality, with no improvements in the last 5-10 years.
We will obtain and provide accurate data and analyze neonatal deaths in maternities of Argentina, Paraguay and other Latin American countries through detailed and standardized techniques based on Root Cause Analysis and patient safety methodology.

Commitment Description & Detail
Design: Prospective collaborative multicenter project. Quantitative and qualitative strategy using Root Cause Analysis.
Population: Newborns who die in maternities from the system of public health in maternities of Latin America for a period of 12 months.
Inclusion: live newborn ≥ 500 g who die at ≤ 30 days of age
Methodology: Qualitative and Quantitative.
