How Many Hospitals Will This Commitment Represent
Commitment Summary
Falls, whether they result in injury or not, negatively impact our patients and staff members. Falls which result in injury may increase length of stay, require transfers to higher levels of care, and/or surgical intervention. By focusing on the most serious fall events, we shift the attention away from proactively addressing preventable falls (Accidental and Anticipated Physiologic). For the rolling calendar year of July 2016 to June 2017, 1509 patients sustained a fall in a Kaiser Permanente Northern California medical center. In comparison, 24 patients sustained a fall that resulted in a major injury. Organizational Importance
